DIGITAL LOGISTICS AWARD 2023

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

The Digital Logistics Award addresses start-ins, start-ups and idea generators in the field of logistics. Start-ins are innovation teams within a logistics and/or production company that develop a digital service or a digital product beyond the existing range of services in their company.

Important:

Start-in teams should have the freedom to make their own decisions, have responsibility for their own work and have their own budget. Start-ups may participate up to 4 years after they were founded (foundation year 2019). Idea generators and inventors should have a mature product or business idea in the field of logistics.

WHAT SHOULD THE APPLICATION LOOK LIKE?

We expect creative applications including a short video (maximum one minute) and a pitch deck (ten PPT slides - see FAQs). It is not important whether the video is recorded on mobile phones or filmed by professionals with a screenplay. It just needs to be short! Very much according to the „Elevator Pitch“ tradition, we would like to know exactly what makes your idea so special for and with logistics. What problem do you solve? What is the composition of your team? How long have you been on the market? You can find a catalogue of all the criteria in our FAQs.

SELECTION PROCESS

A jury of experts from the business community will review all entries. The jury will select up to eight applicants who will each present their project in a three-minute pitch at the Future Congress Logistics 2023 on 12 September. Afterwards, participants of the congress and selected experts of logistics community can vote for their favorite team. The three winners will be announced in a special award ceremony in the evening of the 12 September.
